

NAME: KALAMA, John

PARISH: Woahoo

ENTERED SERVICE: 1837

DATES: fl.1837-1853
d. [ca.1870]*

Appointments & Service

Outfit Year*:	Position:	Post:	District:	HBCA Reference:
*An Outfit year ran from 1 June to 31 May
1837-1840	Middleman	Nez Percés	Columbia	B.223/g/4-5; B.239/g/77-79
1840-1841	Middleman	Snake Party	Columbia	B.239/g/80
1841-1843	Middleman	Nisqually	Columbia	B.223/g/6-7; B.239/g/81-82
1842-1843	Retired to Woahoo, Re-engaged			B.239/g/82-83
1843-1847	Labourer	Fort Vancouver	Columbia	B.223/g/8; B.239/g/84-86
1847-1849	Labourer	Cowlitz Farm	Columbia	B.239/g/87-88
1849-1850	Labourer	Nisqually	Columbia	B.239/g/89

Listed in Abstracts of Servants Accounts, 1850-1853, but name has a line through it. No position or district is listed. No wages were paid during this time, although a small balance is maintained (B.239/g/90-92).

* E.Momilani Naughton, "Hawaiians in the Fur Trade: Cultural Influence on the Northwest Coast, 1811-1875," M.A. thesis, Western Washington University, 1983.

Wife: Mary Martin, "one of the five daughters of the Chief of the Nisqually tribe" (Naughton, "Hawaiians in the Fur Trade: Cultural Influence on the Northwest Coast, 1811-1875").

Children: Peter, b. 1864, Yelm, Washington; one daughter who died young (Naughton, "Hawaiians in the Fur Trade: Cultural Influence on the Northwest Coast, 1811-1875").

KALAMAJO (KE, May 1998)