On motion of Hon. Mr. SELINGER, Bill (No. 44) – The Budget Implementation and Tax Statutes Amendment Act, 2005/Loi d'exécution du budget de 2005 et modifiant diverses dispositions législatives en matière de fiscalité, was read a First Time and had its purposes outlined.

Following Oral Questions, Mr. Speaker made the following ruling:

Prior to Oral Questions on May 5, 2005, the Honourable Official Opposition House Leader rose on a matter of privilege concerning comments made by the Honourable Minister for Education, Citizenship and Youth while answering questions during Oral Questions on the previous sitting day. The Honourable Official Opposition House Leader contended that the Honourable Minister of Education, Citizenship and Youth had committed a falsehood and had intended to deceive the House. The Honourable Official Opposition House Leader tabled some documents in support of his assertion. He concluded his remarks by moving "THAT this matter be referred to the Committee on Legislative Affairs for consideration of disciplinary action respecting the Minister of Education, the Member from Gimli." The Honourable Government House Leader and the Honourable Member for River Heights also offered advice to the Chair on the matter. I took the matter under advisement in order to consult the procedural authorities.

I thank all Members for their advice to the Chair on this matter.

There are two conditions that must be satisfied in order for the matter raised to be ruled in order as a prima facie case of privilege. First, was the issue raised at the earliest opportunity, and second, has sufficient evidence been provided to demonstrate that the privileges of the House have been breached, in order to warrant putting the matter to the House.

Regarding the first condition, the Honourable Official Opposition House Leader asserted that he was raising the matter at the earliest opportunity, and I accept the word of the Honourable Member.

Regarding the second condition, whether there is sufficient evidence that the privileges of the House have been breached, it is important to determine whether parliamentary privilege has been breached in the actions complained.

Joseph Maingot, in the second edition of Parliamentary Privilege in Canada advises on page 241 that to allege that a Member has misled the House is a matter of order rather than privilege. In addition, it has been ruled by Speakers in Manitoba that the Member raising the matter of privilege must furnish proof of intent. Speaker Phillips ruled so in 1987, while Speaker Rocan made similar rulings 7 times between 1988 and 1995. Speaker Dacquay made 9 such rulings between 1995 and 1999. In a ruling that she gave on April 20, 1999, she advised that short of a Member acknowledging to the House that he or she deliberately and with intent set out to mislead, it is virtually impossible to prove that a Member has deliberately misled the House. Similarly, Deputy Speaker Santos made one ruling finding no proof of intentional misleading in 2001, while as Speaker; I have made five such rulings during the period 1999 to 2005.

In addition, Beauchesne citation 494 states "It has been formally ruled by Speakers that statements by Members respecting themselves and particularly within their own knowledge must be accepted. It is not unparliamentary temperately to criticize statements made by Members as being contrary to the facts; but no imputation of intentional falsehood is permissible. On rare occasions this may result in the House having to accept two contradictory accounts of the same incident." This citation is supported by two rulings from Speaker Rocan and by four rulings from Speaker Dacquay.

Also, as I ruled in the House on April 29 of last year, in a comparable situation, where a matter of privilege was raised in the Canadian House of Commons concerning whether a response given by the President of the Treasury Board was false in comparison with other available information, Speaker Milliken ruled on February 19, 2004 that it is not the Speaker's role to adjudicate on matters of fact, as this is something on which the House itself can form an opinion on during debate.

Although this issue is one that is of obvious importance and significance to many Members in the House, with the greatest of respect, I must rule on the basis of the procedural authorities and on the basis of rulings from previous Manitoba Speakers, there is no prima facie case of privilege.

From his decision, Mr. DERKACH appealed to the House,

And the Question being put, "Shall the ruling of the Chair be sustained?" It was agreed to, on the following division:
